I have used the Turner's to process my deer for years. I have driven on that road and I have never seen anyone being reckless, speeding or being irresponsible. The work they do is very professional and honest

I listened to everyone last night that complained about the road, but I never heard anyone say anything about them working on the road to maintain it. I know what it takes to maintain a dirt road because I to live off of one. We don't have a slaughter house on our road but we too have potholes from general traffic from the five houses of people that live there

The Turner's deserve this variance. They provide a service that is needed, they are very good for our community, and are upstanding citizens of our community. The dirt road will have issues regardless of the slaughter house and it appears the people that live there are looking for someone and a reason to be responsible for its upkeep

Sincerely,

Steve Jenkins
